Create a seamless job experience for your clients with P3Connect

JANUARY 22, 2018 BOSTON, MA   P3Software, the global leader in print management and sourcing technology announces P3Connect, a powerful, fully-branded, client-facing portal. P3Connect gives your customers the ability to submit RFQs (Request For Quote) and job orders electronically, through a sophisticated yet simple to use interface funneling them directly into the P3 system.
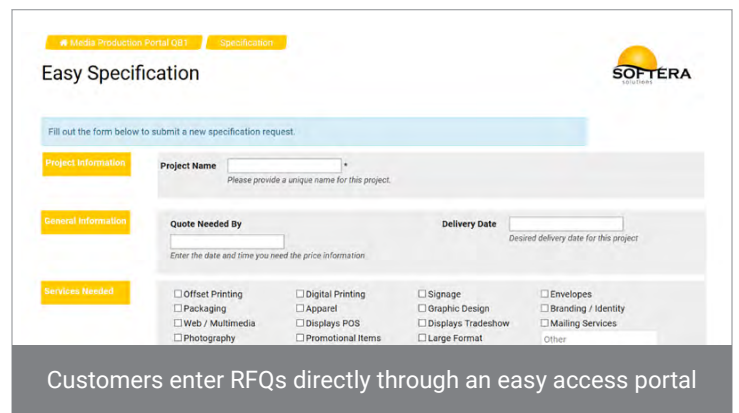

P3 users have long been saying, "If my customers could input job specs directly into P3, it would save a mountain of time." Well now they can!

"Sourcing jobs and Request For Quotes has historically been handled through an awkward set of emails, phone calls, or third party e-storefronts, none of which get the job done particularly well," said BobYancich, P3's Operations Manager. "Our clients have told us, 'If only we could share the front of the P3 interface with our customers, they could send jobs directly into the system.'So that's exactly what we built P3Connect to do.

P3Connect offers an end-to-end solution. On the client side, customizable RFQ templates are branded so customers only ever see one "face" for their print job. On the back end, P3Connect automatically places job starts into the P3Source system where they can be processed by operations. Bids from additional vendors can be arranged and managed, markups and taxes added and professional, branded proposals generated and sent right from the P3 interface. P3Connect can be integrated to any web interface or e-storefront.

Improved Customer Communications

Receiving and processing job starts online provides tremendous advantages. Improved customer communications and a more efficient process allows you to focus on adding value rather than managing complexity. Simpler client interactions make for satisfied clients. Expanding services, managing costs, smart workflows and data analytics, put it all together and it's a game changer! Call a product expert at 508.315.8000 for a discussion and/or demonstration of how P3 can work for you.

Customers enter RFQs directly through an easy access portal
